

AGREEMENT ON IMPORT LICENSING PROCEDURES

Notification under Articles 1.4(a) and 8.2(b) of the Agreement

PEOPLE'S REPUBLIC OF CHINA

The following notification, dated 18 September 2002, has been received from the Permanent Mission of China.

Information provided by China in accordance with Annex 1A of the Protocol of Accession of China¹

IV.3(a) Import Licensing: implementation of the provisions of the Agreement on Import Licensing Procedures and the WTO Agreement applying the measures set out in Section 8 of the Protocol including provision of the time taken to grant an import licence

As a new Member of the WTO, the Chinese Government has committed itself to establishing a uniform, transparent, fair and non-discriminatory environment of market access. In light of the relevant provisions of the WTO Agreement and China's commitments, the Chinese Government has adjusted its policies governing import and export of goods in a timely manner immediately after China's accession. As a result, most goods can be imported or exported freely except for some items subject to import prohibition, import restriction, automatic import licensing or tariff rate quotas (see Annex²).

As a developing country Member and in order to safeguard national security and social welfare, the Chinese Government has promulgated a series of regulations and measures concerning import administration in light of the current development of its economy and trade. Such regulations and measures cover quantity-restrictive measures, such as import quotas and tendering as well as non-quantity-restrictive measures, such as automatic import licences. Those regulations and measures also stipulate the lists of products subject to licences, quotas and tariff rate quotas, the lists of authorized agencies, and relevant procedures and criteria for approval. Such regulations and measures have been published in the Gazette of the Ministry of Foreign Trade and Economic Cooperation (MOFTEC)³. In addition, the Chinese Government has published the lists of products subject to import restriction (two batches) and import prohibition (five batches) in accordance with relevant international treaties and agreements for which China is a contracting party or signatory. All of the measures that the Chinese Government has taken to establish its import licensing regime are in conformity with the WTO Agreement and China's commitments.
